

Bio sketch Hanane Barakat, MD, MPH

Dr. Hanane Barakat is a Clinical Assistant Professor of Anesthesia at the Lebanese American University Medical Center, Gilbert and Rose-Marie Chagoury School of Medicine. She is working as attending staff at the Anesthesia Department and she is the Medical Staff Quality Coordinator at the LAU-Medical Center.

Dr. Barakat received her Doctor of Medicine degree from the Saint Joseph University, School of Medicine- Lebanon where she completed her residency in anesthesiology and intensive care, followed by two year residency at Rene Descartes University-France. Dr. Barakat has a great interest in regional anesthesia and pain management. She obtained a diploma in Acute Pain Management from Rene Descartes University- France and a university diploma in Ultrasound Guided Regional Anesthesia from the Lebanese University.

Dr. Barakat has also a great interest in Quality and Patient Safety and in Clinical Simulation. In 2015 she earned a Master's degree in Hospital and Health Management from ESA Beirut/Lebanon and Paris 7 University-France and in 2016 a diploma in Clinical Simulations from the LAU- Gilbert and Rose-Marie Chagoury School of Medicine in collaboration with the College of Medicine at the University of Illinois at Chicago. Dr. Barakat is currently working on the planification and implementation of in situ simulation program at the LAU- Medical Center.